

Indicators of Global Growth and Development

Global population and birth rate are imbalanced.	A few countries spend more than 14% GDP on health care.	Mobile phone usage grows much faster than internet usage.	Following negative economic growth, we see interest rates decline.	Europe continues to be the most popular tourist destination.	High GDP correlates with ease of business.
--	---	---	--	--	--

Indicators of Global Growth and Development

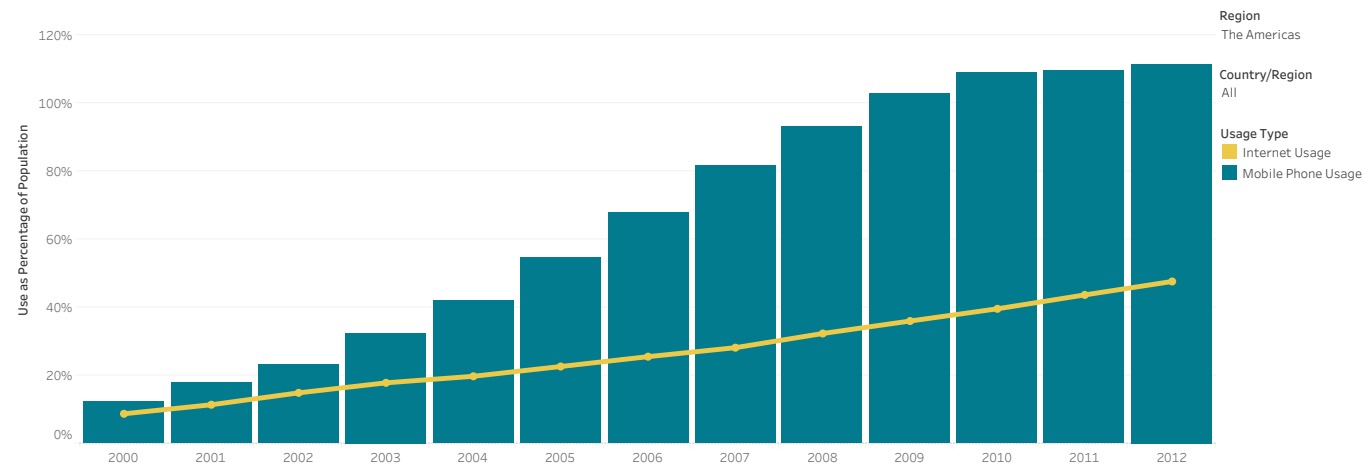

Health Expenditure (% of GDP)

Health Expenditure (per capita)

Indicators of Global Growth and Development

Global population and birth rate are imbalanced.	A few countries spend more than 14% GDP on health care.	Mobile phone usage grows much faster than internet usage.	Following negative economic growth, we see interest rates decline.	Europe continues to be the most popular tourist destination.	High GDP correlates with ease of business.
--	---	---	--	--	--

Indicators of Global Growth and Development

Global population and birth rate are imbalanced.

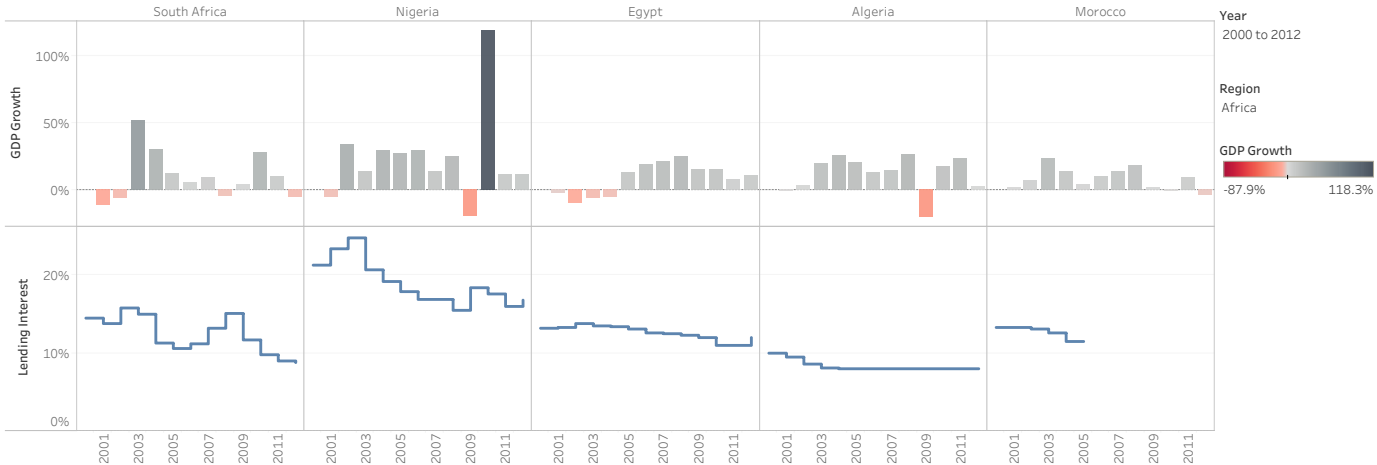

A few countries spend more than 14% GDP on health care.

Mobile phone usage grows much faster than internet usage.

Following negative economic growth, we see interest rates decline.

Europe continues to be the most popular tourist destination.

High GDP correlates with ease of business.

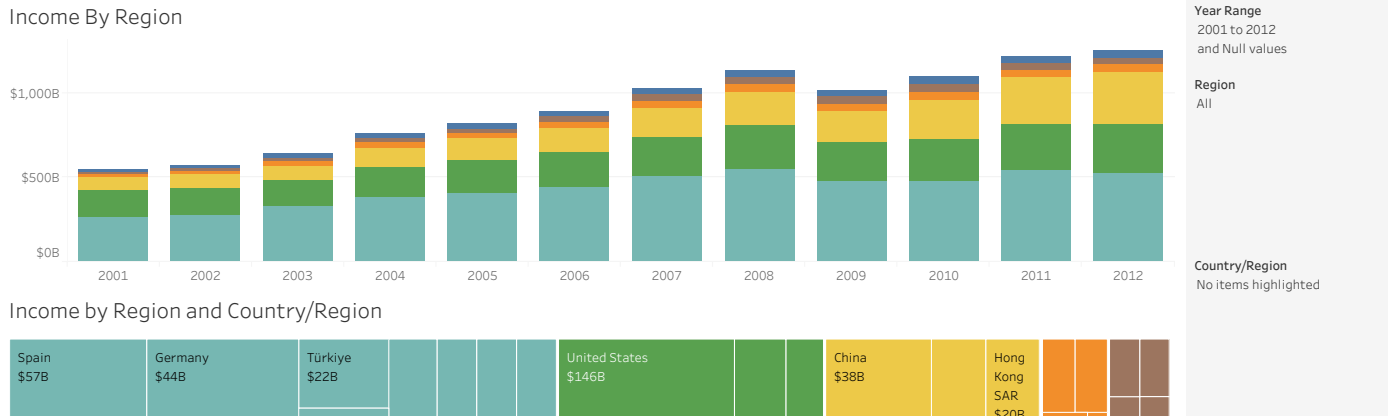

Indicators of Global Growth and Development

Global population and birth rate are imbalanced.	A few countries spend more than 14% GDP on health care.	Mobile phone usage grows much faster than internet usage.	Following negative economic growth, we see interest rates decline.	Europe continues to be the most popular tourist destination.	High GDP correlates with ease of business.
--	---	---	--	--	--

International Tourism

Oceania Middle East Africa Asia The Americas Europe

Indicators of Global Growth and Development

Global population and birth rate are imbalanced.	A few countries spend more than 14% GDP on health care.	Mobile phone usage grows much faster than internet usage.	Following negative economic growth, we see interest rates decline.	Europe continues to be the most popular tourist destination.	High GDP correlates with ease of business.
--	---	---	--	--	--

Ease of Business

Correlation to GDP Per Capita

